Dear Brian,

Hello! I hope you've had a fantastic holiday whatever you did- Tunisia or not! I know I'm going to see you tomorrow but I thought I'd e-mail you cos lots has happened in the last couple of weeks and I want to keep you up to date! As predicted after our chat- this has been a very reflective holiday for me!

To cut a long story short the gist of it is that I'm moving out of London in the next couple of weeks. I know that this is not ideal in terms of the exam groups and I'm sorry for that. I did intend to stay on but to be honest, the chance has suddenly come up this weekend to move to Bath and I feel that I have to take it as soon as possible in an effort to quosh my recent restless state!

I am sorry to make things difficult for you guys- I do feel bad but hey I'm sure there is someone ready and waiting to take on the job without having crazy burning ambitions to act at the same time!

I know that I'm gonna see you but just to let you know at this point that I have really enjoyed working at the school- and it's definitely been my most positive teaching experience in London. Thank you for all your support to me!

I'll see you tomorrow and I'll certainly aim to get the English work as organised as possible over the next week or so.

Later!

Annabel
